

The International Journal of the History of Sport

VOLUME 27 NUMBERS 14-15 SEPTEMBER-OCTOBER 2010

Special Issue: Post-Beijing 2008 – Geopolitics, Sport and the Pacific Rim
Guest Editors: J. A. Mangan and Fan Hong

- Prologue: 'Middle Kingdom' Resurgent! Sports Dominance as Soft Power
Politics on the Pacific Rim – Reflections on Rim Realpolitik
J. A. Mangan 2333
- Politics and the Olympic Transaction: Measuring China's Accomplishments
Victor D. Cha 2359
- Chinese State Sports Policy: Pre- and Post-Beijing 2008
Fan Wei, Fan Hong and Lu Zhouxiang 2380
- Post-Beijing 2008 and Confucian Outreach in a New Game: China's Next Move
Kevin Caffrey 2403
- Asia Pride, China Fear, Tokyo Anxiety: Japan Looks Back at Beijing 2008
and Forward to London 2012 and Tokyo 2016
William W. Kelly 2428
- Beijing 2008: Symbolic Hegemonic Assertion? South Korean Media
Reactions and Responses to the Chinese Olympics
J. A. Mangan and Gwang Ok 2440
- Bigger than Beijing 2008: Politics, Propaganda and Physical Culture in Pyongyang
Udo Merkel 2467
- Post-Beijing 2008: Generating Indonesia's Self-Esteem
Rusli Lutan 2493
- Reading American Readings of Beijing 2008
Mark Dyreson 2510
- The Geopolitical Balance of the Asia-Pacific Region Post-Beijing 2008:
An Australian Perspective
Peter Horton 2530

Too Far and Too Remote! European Indifference to the Impact of Beijing 2008 on the Pacific Rim
Thierry Terret

2567

After Beijing 2008: The Need for Sports to Foster Cooperation as well as Competition in an Increasingly Global World
Roberta J. Park

2583

One World, Real World, Memory and Dream: Shadows of the Past and Images of the Future in Contemporary Asian Sports Internationalisms
John D. Kelly

2608

Epilogue: Branding China: The Beijing Olympics and Beyond
Fan Hong

2642

Call for Papers: The Asian Games: Media Responses

2651